THURSDAY, DEC. 4, 1856.

Officer Enlow arrested a man yesterday who had some $50 or $60 in counterfeit money in his possession. We saw two of the counterfeit notes-one of them was a new $5 note on the Mercantile Bank of Hartford, Connecticut, and the other is a $5 note on the Bank of Penn Township, Philadelphia. He gives his name as G. W. Fields. He had in his possession two new pair of winter gloves and three pen-knives, which no doubt bought with counterfeit money, but he refused to tell where he purchased them.

Since the above we see from our Indianapolis exchauges that counterfeit five-dollar notes on the Mercantile Bank of Hartford, Conn. of the same description, have been put in circulation there. The vignette on these notes is a locomotive and train of cars-female figure on the left hand, resting her left arm on a shield, with the word five on it perpendicularly. The figure 5 is between the female figure and cars. A portrait of Gen. Harrison on the left hand lower corner-five on left hand upper corner. Dated January 18, 1856. J. W. Seymonr, Procident; J. B. Powell, Cashier.

The Cincinnati papers notice the arrest of three men, named John S. Richards, George Burkley, and Lewis Slade, who had been attempting to pass ten-dollar notes on the Merantile Bank of Hartford, Conn., and spurious notes in their possession. They had ust gone from Indiana. Field is doubtless one of the gang.

While speaking of courterfeit notes, we are reminded of a one-dollar counterfeit note on the Bank of Kentucky, payable at Danville, which was shown us the other day. The appearance of this counterfeit is too dark, but it is nevertheless calculated to deceive.

FIREMEN'S FAIR .- The Ladies' Fair for the benefit of disabled firemen, and the widows and orphans of deceased firemen, which has been in progress at the Odd Fellows' Hall for the past two nights, has been gotten up in splendid style and exceedingly good taste. The hall is decorated beautifully, the tables are covered with a mass of beautiful articles and presided over by lovely ladies. The refreshments are excellent. Independent, however, of all these attractions, it is due to the cause for which this fair is held that it should meet with a liberal patronage from all classes of our citizens, and we trust that the hall will be crowded nightly during its APPOINTMET BY THE PRESIDENT. - Th President of the United States has appointed the Rev. John Seys to be agent for receiving the negroes, mulattoes, or persons of color deliverfrom on board vessels in the prosecution of the slave trade by commanders of the United States armed vessels, according to the provisions of the act of Congress of March 3, 1819, in addition to the acts prohibiting the slave trade. Mr. Seys is now in Africa as the special agent of the American Colonization society to explore the interior of that country and select suitable places for the emigrants sent from the United States.

A SUPPLY OF COAL .- This has again become the absorbing question since the weather has Hawesville was selling yesterday and Cannel at 20 cents, but we do not know whether the same prices will rule today. We think still that there will b . sufficient rise at Pittsburg to admit barges to come out with coal. But there is also a fair prospect for obtaining supplies from the Kanawha, Big Sandy, and Kentucky.

This is indeed a most wonderful production to have come from the pen of a school-

[For the Louisville Journal.] They come, they come, the spirits of the bright And beautiful that long since passed away. A dim, weird train of phactom memories A dim, weird train of phastom memories
Are gliding from my heart's deep caveras now.
Gathering pale, withered flowers from the drear wate,
Upon which time has breathed its blight, to strew
Upon the lonely grave of buried joy.
And chanting low, wild dirges o'er the hop
That now have fased into nothingness.
And as the music vibrates in my soul
Bright visions steal into my throbbing brain,
And through the dim realms of the shadowy past
My spirit flies, and on the fairy isles
Cf glorious beauty that bloem far away
In its dark ceean folds its weary wings
And ling rs o'er each foot-print pensively,
Left on the strand and marks it with a tear.

Spirit of the departed! thou dost haunt My nightly dreams, and now my soul would hold Communion with thee. A deep calm broads o'er Its troubled breathings like a solemn spell, And its mysterious voice calls unto thee Through the white mists of unforgotten years and goes forth 'mid the rathlessuniverse In search of thee, but finds thee not, for like A flory meteor thou didst disaprest, Leaving no trace to guide me where thou art. And I must crush this longing in my heart And like a prisoner wear the heavy chain of life that holds me from thee. Oh when they Did tell me thou wast dead, I cursed the power That called thee hence, and madly, wildly raved Till strength and reason fled; and when I woke From that dark, dreadful dream, a blight had o'er My spirit passed, and in my heart I felt A dull, cald pain, a grief that would not vent Itself in tears; its fountains were congealed As by the winter's breath, and it became Like a volcano in whose mighty breast he flery tempest raves and strives to break Its prison-bars, and, baffled, settles back With sullen roar, telling in murmurs deep It does not slumber, though it cannot wake.

Ah, theu art gone, and earth to me has lost

Its loveliness. The autumn time has come, Her brow wreathed with the snalight and the flowers, But her sweet smile has lost its magic. I O t watch the bright clouds gliding dreamily Upon the sunset-sky, and as deep thoughts of beauty float into my soul, I turn
To see its image pictured in the depths of thy love-speaking eyes, lut, greeting not
Their tender gaze, I sickening turn from all. The streamlet that we loved still ripples on, Soft fashing in the sunbeams, but no more I love its gushing song. The bright flowers breathe Their perfume on the breezes, but they bloom Their perfume on the breezes, but they bloom Upon thy grave. I seek the joycus throng And strive amid the scenes of revelry And mirth to teach my heart orgetfulness, But all in vain—gay songs of joy and mirth Fall on my spirit like a knell of death. And then I steal away in solitude To muse once more upon the works of love That thou didst whisper to my heart, ere thine Grew cold beneath Death's icy seal. 'Tis said That disembodied spirits love in keaven. I know, b. loved ons, that they pure soul I know, b.loved ons, that thy pure soul
Has found its home forever there, and oh,
Doth it e'er east one lingering look to this
Dim, dissant earth, where it first learned to love
And first dreamed dreams of immortality?
When thy soul wanders mid the star-lit realm
Where oft in musings deep it through from earth Where angel's eyes more bright than ocean-gems Where angel's eyes more bright than ocean-gems Cast on thee witching glances, and their tones Softer than echoes of Æolian lyres
Breathe words of burning passion—3ay! do they Woo thee by their caresses? Has thy soul There found a love than mine more deep and pure And in that love forgotten the deep vows
It pledged to mint—or does it cherish still
Their memory—and sometimes leave its home
To hover near me on life's lonely way!
I hear the rustling of thy angel wings
In the soft twilight wind that fans my brow—
I feel thy heavenly breath upon my cheek— I feel thy heavenly breath upon my cheek— The warm breath of a sigh—I wildly spring To meet thy dear embrace-but only clasp A shadow and a vacancy!

Death! Death!
Thou mystery of mysteries! whatch?
Thou art, I pray thee bear me unto him!
The been of life I spurn—Oh! Thou Supreme Eternal One, the soul Thou gavest I Return to Thee, weaked, even as twee of thine!

Joy! joy, my own one, I am Death's—and thine!

IDA PRESTOM.

WINCHESTER, ILL.

CONCERT To-NIGHT .- Miss Phebe a blind young lady, who was educated at the Virginia Institution for the blind, gives a Con-Virginia Institution for the blind, gives a Coned, at the request of my counsel, what I had cer to night at the Christian Church, corner of said of L. H. Rousseau, W. T. Haggin, and N. Walnt and Fourth Streets. Miss Looker is engaged in the laudable object of paying for a homestead for her aged and destitute parents. They have another blind daughter, and their youngest child is also seriously threatened with blindness. These afflictions have entailed poverty on the parents.

Miss Looker will be assisted by Mr. Whipple and several accomplished young ladies, and we hope that the excellence of the entertainment and the meritorious purposes of Miss Looker of prisons; but I asked no one to go my bail will call forth a liberal and useful sympathy except my counsel, and he was a stranger to me, on the part of the public.

SABBATH SCHOOL CELEBRATION .- We learn that our enterprising friends connected with the Jefferson street (near Eighth) Baptist Sabbath School celebrate its third anniversary to-night, commencing at 7 o'clock. The exercises will consist mainly of singing and speaking by the scholars. We feel well-assured that in no way can our readers spend an hour or two more pleasantly, or more effectually aid the good cause, than by encouraging both teachers and scholars by their presence on this interesting

The Secretary of the Treasury is in readiness to purchase, until the 3d of March. unless the amount is sooner obtained, $1,500, 000 of United States Loans, giving the following premiums: For the Stock of 1842, 10 per cent.; for Stock of 1847-48, 16 per cent.; and for stock of 1850, 6 per cent.

REMARKABLE WORK .- Hull, Hunt, & Co. kilied four thousand three hundred and thirty hogs at their establishment yesterday and will cut them to-day. Any persons who desire to see the largest and most complete packing establishment in the world in full blast should embrace the present opportunity.

Death of a Celebrated Horse —A telegraphic dispatch has been received stating that the far-famed tretting stallion, "Vermont Black Hawk," died this morning at the stable of his owner, David Hill, Esq., Bridport, Vt. He was twenty-three years old.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river was still rising slowly last evering with 33 inches water on the falls and about 51 feet in the canal.

A dispatch to Capt. Morehead says the Kentncky river was falling yesterday at Frankfort, but a rise of twenty feet was reported above that point. From this we judge that there is also a heavy rise in the Kanawha.

From Pittsburg the news is rather unfavorable, though a farther rise was expected.

The weather night before last turned very cold and the wind blew furiously until nearly noon yesterday. The Jeffersonville ferryboats had to suspend their trips. The boat which took the Railroad passengers across early yesterday morning was over an hour making a landing, and all the passengers missed the train. The Cincinnati mailboat, Moses McLellan, had to lie by for four hours.

The Superior is the mailboat for Cincinnati

The Fmma Dean is the Carrolton packet for to-day.

For New Orleans .- There is a fleet of boat, going to-day. First among them is the new steamer Woodford.

Then the elegant new steamer J. H. Oglesby, commanded by Capt. B. A. Oglesb;, with Mr. Sam. Geiger as clerk, both Kentuckians. The Oglesby was built at Cincinnati, is a large beat, and has superb accommdations.

The fine steamer Sultana is advertised to leave positively, and the Pete Whetstone is also to go to-day. She is an A. No. 1, cotton boat, and can accommodate a limited number of cabin and a whole regiment of deck passengers. The Wm. Bagsley, Capt. Sinnett, leaves today.

For St. Louis .- Travelers to St. Louis cannot avail themselves of a better medium for reaching their destination than the Southerner affords. She is unsurpassed in accommodations, and better officers never walked the hurricane deck. Mr. Sherley, a worthy and exemplary young man has charge of the office.

The Wm. Knox leaves for the Tennessee riv-

The Cincinnati Gazette has the following: Europa Sold -The steamer Europa was sold yesterday to Messrs. Craig and Rechtor, of Newport, Ky., for the sum of $10,000. She will be taken to the Balize, where the purchas ers have a contract for deepening the mouth of of the Mississppi river.

Caledonia Sold.—The steamer Caledonia was sold at Pittsburg, to Capt. A. Smith for thirteen

More Disasters on the Lakes .- The gale of Saturday was very severe on Lake Erie. We learn by telegraphic dispatches that the propeller Manhattan, while attempting to enter the harbor of Cleveland, ran against the pier and became a total wreck; no lives lost. She was insured for $10,000.

The steamer Golden Gate, running between Erie, while endeavoring to run into that port during a terrific storm of wind, accompanied with snow. She soon parted in the middle and went to pieces. It was impossible for a lifeboat to reach her. Her officers and crew succeeded in gaining the shore, but one of them shortly afterward died.

done any such thing, which can be seen by reference to the papers in said court. I retract-Woif, for the reason that I could not prove what I had said of them being bribed. I will however, say to the people of this city that there was no necessity for my going to the prison as I did. If I had been informed in time to have gotten security, I had some friends here and could have given the required ball; but, instead of that, I stayed more than two hours in my lawyer's office, depending on him, when, in that time, I could have seen my friends, who would have been my bail, and have saved me the disgrace, in this city, of ten or eighteen hours' imprisonment in the lowest and I did not have the money with me to deposit with him for my appearance at court.

FUGITIVE SLAVES RECAPTURED.—Two run-away negroes were captured at Salem Monday and brought down on the cars last evening. It appears they crossed the river on Sunday and traveled on the railroad track on Sunday night. Having arrived within five miles of Salem Monday morning, they gave a boy three dollars to take them to that place. On reaching Salem, they went to a public house and called for their breakfast, at the same time asking for a private room to eat in. This, of course, excited suspicion, and a man named McKinney demanded one of the negroes his free papers. The negroes to the negroes his free papers. of one of the negroes his free papers. The ne-gro immediately drew a pistol and pointed it at McKinney's breast, but the cap exploded and no damage was done. The bystanders then seized damage was done. The bystanders then saized this negro, when his companion started to run. He was, however, pursued and arrested, and both were brought down, as stated, last evening. They belong to Louisville, but we did not hear the name of the owner. One of them had a certificate stating that the bearer was a free man, signed with the name of Capt. James Montgorery. This bearers was proposed. Montgomery. This, however, was pronounced a forgery by those acquainted with Capt.

M.'s handwriting. Both had through tickets purchased at the Louisville office. It is quite evident that there is a gang of scoundr Louisville who are engaged in running off ne-groes. We hope they may be captured and punished.—New Albany Ledger, Dec. 3.

Death of Judge Wash .- St. Louis lost one of her best and most esteemed citizens on Sunday in the death of Judge Robert Wash. He was an able jurist and an upright man. He came to Missouri from Virginia while this State was a Territory, and has been one of its brightest ornaments till the day of his death.

THE PORK THAPE.—A good degree of excitement has prevailed in the market during the week. The report of receipts as published in our last issue, being below the estimates of caulers generally, on Wednesday morning the market opened at an advance of 10c % cwt. with an active demand, and a further advance was established from day to day, the activity increasing up to yesterday, when the market seemed to come to a name. The advance for the week is 6tc % cwt. The receipts as given below, may be considered quite moderate, and are hardly up to the general expectation. There is one thing, however, it may be proper to notice in this connection, virlast year the receipts of hogs by the river steamers were quite large; this year none of c nasquance have as yet arrived by this made of conveyance, which may, probably, to attributed to the very low stage or water in the river, and if this is the case, liberal receipts by the river may be looked for hence-forward.

The following figures show the receipts, as compared with the three previous seasons: [From the Cincinnati Price-Current, December 3.]

THURSDAY EVENING. DEC 4,1856.

The morning papers of this city, evidently chag ined at the superior enterprise of the Bulmessage one day in advance of them, have been guilty of a petty meanness unworthy even of them. They have been in the habit of copying items from the Bulletin without crediting them, but in reference to the President's message they have done worse than this. With the Bulletin, yesterday, a half sheet of the Weekly Journal was sent out containing the President's message. Copies of the message were procured by us at considerable expense and were received at this effice by a special messenger at 9 A. M. yesterday. It was message was in the city until after it had been printed by us, but, as soon as they procured one of the copies of the Weekly Journal containing it, they placed it in the hands of their printers and had it set up. The Democrat acknowledges the receipt of a copy from a gentleman in the interior of Ohio, leaving it to be inferred that it printed the message from that copy, which could not have been received until after 6 P. M., when it had the entire or nearly the entire document in type, copied from the terprise or stop their pilfering from the Bulletin and Journal without giving the usual Onio river shall take place. credit.

THE BRITISH NAVY .- There were in commission, on the 1st of November, 264 British ships-of-war, mounting 5,037 guns and manned by 49,644 men; but, of these, 24 ships, mounting 425 guns and manned by 4,218 men, had been ordered home, leaving in commission 240 ships, 4,612 guns, and 45,416 men. These figures show that since the ratification of the peace a reduction has taken place equal to 61 sail, 1,194 guns, and 13,691 men. The largest numbering 48 ships, 947 guns, and 10,728 men. guns, and 5,940 men. The next is the East In- the aggregated items: dian fleet, comprising 27 ships, 389 guns, and Civil, Diplomatic, and Miscella-4,098 men. On the southeast coast of America there are 8 ships, 121 guns, and 1,352 men, and on the west coast of America 10 ships, 266 guns, and 2,537 men.

CHINESE EUGAR CANE. - It will be seen from an article which we copy from an Illinois paper that the Chinese sugar cane has been successfair cu ltivated in Illinois. It has been tried in Wabash county of that State, and the result is so successful as to induce Mr. Kroh, the the State of Illinois."

According to Mr. Kroh's statement, onehalf acre of frosted cane yieldrd forty-five gallons of molasses, "which, in flavor and be autiful bright red color, is far superior to any molasses obtained at the South." So unfavorable, moreover, were the circu mstances under which this first trial were conducted, that the half acre did not produce a greater quantity of stalks than could, with more careful treatment, be grown on one-quarter of an acre.

LARGEST CLOCK IN THE WORLD.—The dials of the English Parliament clock are twenty-two feet in diameter, and are the largest in the world with the minute hand. Every half minute, the point of the minute hand moves half minute, the point of the minute hand moves nearly seven inches. The clock will go eight and a half days, and strike only seven and a half, so as to indicate by its silence any neglect the piece was 270 gallons, from which I made in winding it up. The mere winding of each for'y-five gallons, which in flavor and beautiful in winding it up. The mere winding of each of the striking parts will take two hours. The pendulum is 15 feet long; the wheels are of cast iron; the hour bell is eight feet high frosted; but I am convinced there will be no diffiand nine feet in diameter, weighing from fourteen to fifteen tons. The weight of the hammer is four hundred weight.

The Queen of England has signified her pleasure that a full and free pardon should be granted, under the Great Seal of Great Britain and Ireland respectively, to all persons suffering under the consequences of conviction for political offences. This is of great consequence to Smith O'Brien, O'Doherty, Frost, Williams, &c., as the act restores them to all their civil rights and station as they steed before trial. They can now possess and inherit lands, and enjoy all the privileges and dignities in the State. This act of clemency does not, of course, include those who broke their parole, or incurred the additional penalty of flying from the sentence of the law.

The U. S. circuit court, Massachusetts district, has granted an injunction against Thos. W. This injunction was asked for by the New England Car-Spring Co., to prevent the making, using, or selling of Vulcanized Rubber Car-Springs made by the Union India Rubber Co., of New York, it being an infringement of the patients owned only by the New England Car-Spring Co.

[From the Grayville (Ill) Herald] THE CHINESE SUGAR CANE 'IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS- Great Success in its Culture. - Being is so successful as to induce Mr. Kroh, the requested by many to publish a statement, cultivator, to declare that "in 1860, the Southern planter will have no sele for his sugar in through the columns of your paper, of my experience with and the value of the Chinese sugar cane, I therefore send you the following statement which you will please insert:

On the 25th of May I planted about half an acre of ground, one year old. A portion of the soil was low and wet in the spring; in fact I covered the seed with mud; the other part was high and sandy; the consequence was when the dry season set in the wet part baked very hard and the high burnt up for want of rain. I plowed it when about ten inches high, and that was all the working it got with the exception of a slight hoeing previous to plowing; my object was to ascertain the amount of saccharine matter contained in the stalks, and supposed nough would grow to make the experiment

I am convinced that the amount of stalks I used can be grown on less than a quarter of an acre. The amount of water obtained from bright red color, is far superior to any molasses obtained from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being rosteo; but I am convinced there will be no dim-culty in graining it if tried previous to frost. If it is planted by the middle of May it will ripen by the end of August, and remain in good condition until frost, and if cut up and put in sheds (in apprehension of frost), it will keep

Veil for a month or more.

I will give a statement of what may be made per acre, judging from the amount of water obtained from each stalk. One of my neighbors, Mr. A. Degan, obtained from seven choice stalks one gallon of water, and in another trial made by Mr. McCleary, Sen., and myself, we pressed from ten stalks one gallon and a quart. The number of stalks in a hill should be from four to six. In my calculations I only estimate one quart of water to the hill, allowing sixteen hills per square rod, which will make 2,560 hills to the acre, and this, at one quart per hill, will make 640 gallons of water, which will make 110 gallons of molasses. Valued at 75 cents per gallon, it would amount to $82 50 per acre, and I do not hesitate in saying that the acre, and I do not hesitate in saying that the amount may be doubled.

I would urge upon the farmers of the Western country to try it. You will not only save, but make money by the operation. I am well convinced that in 1860 the Southern planter will have no sale for his sugar in the State of Illi-nois. From the present indications there will be one hundred acres raised in Wabash county next year, which will save the county $10,000. The time to commence working the cane is when the seeds have changed from a green to a dark red hue, although it will remain good until the methods.

Should any person wish to make the experiment, I have some seed to spare—one quart will ment, I have some seed to spare—one quart will ment, I have some seed to spare—one quart will ment on acre. McCleary's Bluff, Wabash Co. Ill.

The three Washburne brothers are reelected to the next Congress. Israel, in Maine, by 5,000; Cadwallader C., in Wisconsin, by 5,000; and Elihu B., in Illinois, by 11,551.

A NOVEL MOVEMENT - We extract from the Paris correspondence of the New York ment of the United States will shortly order a Journal of Commerce the following state-

> "We are told that a Congress is to be assembled in Brussels next year, to decide upon the improvements to be effected in male and fem ale Delegates are to be sent from all nations to defend their national coiffures, and inventors will be allowed to produce new models. round hats now worn by gentlemen and the enormous skirts of the ladies are to especially discussed by the Congress This body will fix upon another male head-dress, and engage to wear the hat which will be accepted by the delegates Measures are to be proposed to persuade the fair sex to adopt a more moderate volume of skirt, as the present style produces many evils; the enormous expense of so many yards of silk, the raising of the rents in consequence of the necessity of wide stair-cases and large saloons, &c. All this is pleasant irony if rather doubtful as matter of fact.

[Fron the San Francisco Balle-in GREAT CHINESE BATTLE. 2,500 Combatants-Four Stain-Four Wounded-and 250 Arrested by the Authorities.

STOCKTON, Oct. 27, 10 A. M. A fight occurred near Mound Spring, on the Sonora road, about fifty-five miles from this city, last Saturday, at noon, between two par-ties of Chinese. There was no general en-gagement, but several skirmishes took place, in which four persons were killed and as many wounded. There were about two thousand five hundred combatants engaged on both sides, all armed and equipped. Many had fire-arms. A stop was put to the hostilities by a sheriff's posse, assisted by citizens. Some two hundred and fifty arrests were made Conflicting accounts reach us from the interior as to the relations of peace and war be-tween the rival bodies of Chinamen now in the middle mining districts. The San Andreas Independent (Calaveras county) learns that the heads of the two great Chinese companies, the Canton and See Yups, have met in Sacramento, and settled all the difficulties heretofore existing between them. The Sonora Democrat (Tuolumne county), on the other hand, considers that some ferrite heatilities are in sending ers that some terrible hostilities are impending.

A great battle has been arranged between the two Chinese armies now encamped at Rock River Ranch, and near the Chinese Camp in this county. The battle field will be in the neigh-borhood of Shoemake's Ranch, about half way between the hostile forces To-day [tast Saurday] has been fixed upon for the and should nothing occur to disturb the prelim inary arrangements, many a long-tailed Celes-tial will probably bite the dust before the going down of the light of heaven shall close fray. The opposing forces are armed with all kinds and descriptions of weapons, ranging in size and calibre from double barrelled snotguns and six-shooters, down to handspikes, war clubs, and gongs.

The two armies number about one thousand braves, and the tremendous noise and confusion which will prevail, when host meets host, can be more easily imagined than described by those not well acquainted with the styles of tactics which govern the warriors of the Flowery Kingdom. One redeeming trait in Chinese warfare is the disposition which they manifest to slay but few men, contenting themselves with raising a great dust and noise. Any how, we hope the valiant 'Johns' will have a good time.

Above we give the issue of hostilities, which has reached u. by telegraphic dispatch. It will be seen that four Chinamen have been killed and four wounded, and that two hundred and fifty of the combatants have been arrested by the authorities! Two thousand five hundred were engaged in hostilities. So ends, for a time, the California Chinese war.

More of the War—The Challenge—We yesterday gave the result of the grand Chinese en-gagement at Mount Spring, near Sonora, where lour hapless Johns were slain, four wounded, and two hundred and fifty (out of the 2 500 combatants) arrested by the authorities We learn from the Columbian that the expenses of the Chinamen in this affair must be enormous. Already a tax of forty dollars per head has been levied to meet the demand. The Columbia Gazette says of the origin of the dispute, that the misunderstanding arose some time since between the two rival companies, who are headed by two Chinese warriors bearing the cuphonious names of Sam Yap and Yan about a mining claim situated on the Stanislaus river.

In order to avoid the "law's delay" and attorney's fees, they agreed, after much palaver, to meet in the lists, and, with lance and other weapons known to the chivalry of old, in conjunction with a few of the improved "killers" of the present degenerate days, to-wit: six-shooters, to settle the affair.

STEALING A FLATBOAT OF POTATOES .- About two months ago, Mr. Murray, an extensive buyer of potatoes, &c., shipped a flatboat load of potatoes to New Orleans, in charge of one James Lynch. The boat was a long time reaching Cairo, and Mr. M., not being satisfied with Lynch, ordered Mr. Phillips at Cairo to take possession of it on its arrival there, and ship the potatoes on a steamboat. Lynch refused to give the boat up, but, by the aid of the strong arm of the law, he was forced to submit. Mr. Phillips paid off the crew, and commenced reshipping the petatoes as fast as he could. All but seventy-five barrels had been taken out of the boat, when one morning the boat was found missing, and it was ascertained that Lynch had cut the lines, taken the boat to Hickman, and sold both the potatoes and boat, and pecketed the proceeds. Lynch was lately heard of at Cincinnati, when a requisition from Gov. Morehead on the Governor of Ohio for Lynch's delivery was procured, and entrusted to officer Vansant, who ar ived this morning with Lynch. His case was called up in the city court this morning and laid over. Lynch in the meantime remains in jail.

KENTUCKY ELECTORAL COLLEGE. - The Electoral College met at the Capitol in Frankfort on Wednesday, and organized by appointing Hon. Elijah Hise Chairman, S. I. M. Major Secretary, and E. H. Tole Sergeant- at-Arms-All the Electors were present except Col. R. D. Gholson, of the First district, whose place was filled by the appointment of Major T. T. Hawkins, of Louisville, as a substitute. The twelve electoral votes of the State were formally cast by ballot for Buchanan and Breckinridge. No appointment of Messenger was made, the remaining time of the day's session being consumed in discussing the propriety of appointing a committee to examine the returns of the popular vote in the Secretary's office, and report the true majority in the State. The following resolution presented by Mr. Reed, but amended by Col. Stevenson, was adopted:

HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU

Is prepared directly according to the RULES OF PHARMACY AND CHEMISTRY.

With the greatestacouracy and chemical knowledgeand care devoted in its combination. Its popularity has extended in all irrections, and, whether used in town, country, hospital, or private practice, has invariably given the most decided and unoquivocal satisfaction and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. It has been and is used in all the principal cities in the United States and British Provinces. In both public and private practice, with great success. Henceforth letit be understood, for the proofs are too overwhelming to be contradicted, that Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Compound Fluid Extract of Buchu is the most valuable remedy ever offered to the afflicted.

ROBBERY OF $1,600-THE MONEY RECOV ERED. - About a week ago Wm. Steele, a young man about 18 years old, arrived here from Buffalo in search of employment, with a letter of lands. recommendation to Mr. Frank Tryon, the agent of Livingston, Fargo, & Co.'s Express. The recommendation was from a highly respectable source, and Mr. Tryon told Steele that he would endeavor to find employment for him. Steele spent most of his time in the Express office, and had got acquainted with some of its arrangements. There is a drawer in the office, in which valuable packages are placed, and it has a small hole at the top through which packages are dropped into it. On Wednesday morning Steele was in the office by himself, the book keeper having occasion to step out for a few minutes. Steele left before and found one of them missing. He in formed Mr. Tryon of the circumstance, who went to Steele's boarding house, Steele alleged that he had left some one in charge of the office when he went out. Mr. Tryon brought Steele to his office, and then went for Chief Kirkpatrick. While Tryon was gone, Steele was seen i the privy vault and was seen to drop something in it. Mr. Tryon returned with Kirkpatrick, place d Steele in his charge, and commenced tearing open the boards from the vault. Steele then conf essed the robbery; that he had thrown $500 into it, and the remainder of the money, save $16, which he had spent, was in his trunk at his boarding house. The money, with the exception of $16, was recovered. We heard of this case on Wednesday, but by request of Mr. Tryon did not state it until judicial examination was had.
